IN THE THEATRES

JACKSON'S

FISKE O'HARA IN 'THE WEARING OF THE GREEN'

Fiske O'Hara will bring to Jackson's theatre tonight and tomorrow matinee and night his newest Irish play, "The Wearing of the Green," a romance of the Emerald Isle in the days when patriotic melodies were under the ban of the law. The piece is by Theodore Burt Sayre, and is ahead of any of the vehicles in which Mr. O'Hara has hitherto appeared before local audiences. It gives him a chance to joke in the fetching way of a jolly Irish comedian and to sing songs with a lilt that keeps an audipiece. Through the whole piece runs a thread of most amusing patonimie, which is one of the distinct characteristics that we have come to expect from Mr. Gillette whenever he writes a new play. Seats will go on sale for Miss Doro's performance next Thursday morning.

AT THE EMPIRE

Another vaudeville show par excellence is given at Keeney's Empire this week. "Fun in a Grocery," a ludicrously funny skit, given by Harry Jackson's Theatre on Thursday, December 22nd, is a comedy of the first order. This contains many laughable situations and seems to be just what the Empire patrons want. It is cleverly acted throughout. The Boston City quartet is another feature. L. D. Murphy, a popular local lad is one of this entertaining four. Sartelle has a performance of refined humor and startling mysteries. The Graham Sisters have a dainty and refined musical act. Their act is such that the most critical of music lovers will favor it with loud applause. The rendition of "Way Down Upon the Swannee River" on a cello and violin is especially noteworthy. Gates and Blake, the Traveling Man and the Hebrew, is one of the most popular acts on the bill. This act is quite different than those usually given by a comedy team. Tonight election returns will be given from the stage, and you can enjoy a good vaudeville show and keep up with the count during the entire evening. "Come any time and stay as long as you like."

YALE "DRAMATS" TO COME HERE ON DECEMBER 22ND AT JACKSON'S THEATRE

ence clamoring for more. The story of the play concerns the courtship of pretty Nora Donovan by dashing Phil Fitzgerald, who finally wins the girl of his heart, after conquering the opposition of the villainous Gill McDougall and quelling a theatrical riot by the singing the forbidden song, "The Wearing of the Green." Mr. O'Hara appears as the sweet voiced singer Phil, and he makes love in a way that sets many hearts a-flutter. Mr. O'Hara is supported by a cast of unusual merit which is headed by Miss Marie Quinn, Ireland's sweetest ingenue, Lisle Bloodgood, Phyllis Baiton, J. P. Sullivan, William Sheehan, Charles P. Rice and others of equal note. During the action of the play Mr. O'Hara will introduce the following songs: "The Wearing of the Green," "An Irishman's Toast," "My Queen is an Irish Colleen," "Nora McNamara," and "Eyes of Irish Blue." Seats have been selling very rapidly for all performances of this engagement, and especially for tonight. Tonight being election night, a full and accurate list of election returns from all elections bearing any local interest of note, will be read from the stage.

"THE CHINATOWN"

"The Chinatown Trunk Mystery," a sequel of the Elsie Sigel case will be presented at Jackson's Theatre next Thursday and Friday, with daily matinees. The play is said to deal with the facts of this sensational mystery as found by the New York police department and to be handsomely mounted and costumed. Special popular prices will prevail for this engagement. Seats are now on sale.

"GRAUSTARK"

Geo. D. Baker's dramatization of "Graustark" which has been approved by Geo. Barr McCutcheon, the famous author of the novel, will again be presented in this city at Jackson's theatre next Saturday matinee and night, with bargain prices prevailing at the matinee. This is the same organization which has and is still meeting with such unprecedented success in all the larger cities throughout the country. Presenting a play of more than ordinary interest to theatregoers, clean and wholesome, with interesting love stories, brilliant comedy lines, and with a plot of intensity, augmented by a company of players all favorably cast, and with a scenic investment of massive and magnificent reproductions of the locale of "Graustark" should prove a magnet for drawing patrons of the theatre to Jackson's when the organization appears there. Seats go on sale Wednesday.

MARIE DORO IN 'ELECTRICITY'

"Electricity" the new starring vehicle for dainty Miss Marie Doro and the piece in which she comes to Jackson's theatre for a single performance next Monday evening, has been so constructed by William Gillette, the author, as to give infinite pleasure not only to the ear, but the eye. The whole effect and the minutiae of Mr. Gillette's setting are extremely interesting to watch, and the eye enjoys him his fireplace and covets his bookcases. Vivid, too, are the external personages—the extremely modish gowns that Miss Doro and Miss Ann Murdoch wear; the faces, the lips, the gestures, and above all the satisfaction of having everything in the scene genuinely in its place, and serving some purpose with the action of the

ALDERMEN MAKE LAST FAREWELLS IN COUNCIL HALL

Exchange a Few Nothings and Shed a Few Tears at Parting Last Evening

Mayor Buckingham and President McMurray were thanked last night by a unanimous vote of the common council for the fair treatment and courtesies shown to every member of the council during the past year. The resolution adopted upon motion of Alderman Jackson was as follows: "Resolved, That this common council, convened for the last time, take this opportunity of extending its thanks to the president of the board, John H. McMurray, for his unflinching efforts in behalf of the entire body, and his fair and impartial rulings in the deliberations of the board; and, Resolved, That the council, in appreciation of the services of the representatives of the local press, in attending its meetings and the accuracy of their reports of the same."

Alderman H. H. Jackson after the adoption of the resolution said he did not think a good thing without a friendly feeling. He added, "There is only one reward for being an alderman. That comes when a man is surrounded by his family circle and the feeling comes to him that he did the best that he could while serving the city." The feeling between Mayor McMurray and some of my Republican friends has been most kindly and although we may have differed upon many questions the feeling that has existed between us at all times has been the most kindly."

President McMurray made a brief speech thanking the aldermen for their fair treatment of him and hoping that the relations of the incoming board of aldermen and the outgoing board, Alderman W. E. Primrose the leader of the Republican side of the house, thanked the mayor and the Democratic aldermen for their kind treatment and pleasant relations. Then the mayor thanked the aldermen for their mark of courtesy. He said that the relations had been pleasant and he hoped that the same feelings would exist and be reaching over by a resolution offered by Alderman P. H. Brady, John J. McGuinness was authorized and empowered to index volumes 251 to 260 of the land records. He will receive $800 for the work and $200 for the verification of the same. The trustees of the Spooner estate were given permission to build a sewer to connect with the Brookline avenue sewer according to a line and grade furnished by the city engineer. The Spooner tract is located in Fairfield shore. The permission is given with the idea that owners will petition the council to have the tract annexed to the city of Bridgeport.

After two spirited public hearings the council voted down a proposition to extend Roston avenue to Main street through a lot owned by John Tallman, and instead of being voted to extend it northerly from Savoy street and westerly to Wayne street. Chief Money of the fire department filed a second protest against the location of two lunch wagons in Congress street, on the ground that the owners of the wagons have not secured the consent from the property owners. The communication was referred to the committee on Fire Department.

LIFE SAVERS TRY TO RESCUE CREW ON DUCK ISLAND

(Special from United Press) Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 8.—While the life-saving crew from the Wood Island Station were busy today trying to save the crew and property of the schooner George W. Collins, ashore on Gerrish Island, they were called off the job to save the crew of the schooner Lizzie Murray which went ashore on Duck Island. The surf was running high and the schooners were being pounded badly, so for a time it looked bad for one crew or another. The life-savers were up to the double trick, however, and divided forces, rescuing both crews. The Collins, commissioned to Boston from Machias, Me., with lumber, went ashore, Captain Mitchell thinking the schooner was fishing Island, but the heavy haze. He summoned aid, but the Murray, from St. Johns for Boston, also blundered ashore. The Collins will probably be pulled off but little hope is held out for saving the Murray.

MISS GERTRUDE KENNELLY WEDS JOHN J. CARAHAR

John J. Carahar and Miss Gertrude Kennelly were united in marriage this morning at St. Augustine's church by the Rev. Chas. J. McElroy. The bride's sister, Miss Minnie Kennelly, acted as bridesmaid, and the groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Joseph V. Carahar. Miss Kennelly was a teacher in the Oak street school and Mr. Carahar is associated with W. G. Lineburgh in business in the Sanford building.

GOODWIN NOTE IN NEW TENOR

Offers Heartiest Good Wishes to Baldwin if He be Elected

LATTER SAYS HANDSOME

Democratic Candidate Expresses Confidence of Election of Full Democratic Ticket.

Hartford, Nov. 8.—The following letter was sent by Charles A. Goodwin, the Republican nominee for Governor, yesterday afternoon:

Hartford, Conn., Nov. 7, 1910. My Dear Judge Baldwin: I have your open letter of November 5 which appeared in the newspapers before it reached me. I do not know that I have any comment to make upon it. What I said in my speech at Middletown still holds good. Nevertheless, it seems to me that we are both large enough not to wrangle over little things, and we are both standing on the threshold of what will be for us his greatest work in life, and I say this with due respect for your long and honorable career in the public service. Whomever the people shall commission tomorrow begins a difficult task and one of exceeding importance to his State.

If it be your pleasure remember that you have my heartiest good wishes. With assurance of my high regard, believe me, I am, respectfully yours, (Signed) CHARLES A. GOODWIN. To Hon. Simeon E. Baldwin, New Haven, Conn.

BALDWIN SAYS HANDSOME

But Declines to Make Reply Before Receiving Letter.

New Haven, Nov. 8.—Judge Simeon E. Baldwin, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, when shown the above letter by a Journal-Courier representative last night, declined to give out any answer to the latest communication from his opponent.

The Goodwin letter was in reply to one from Judge Baldwin renewing his offer to share half the expense of an investigation into the methods used in the campaign. Judge Baldwin said he considered Goodwin's letter a handsome one and that there was evidently no need for reply.

"I cannot answer Judge Goodwin's letter by a Journal-Courier representative last night, declined to give out any answer to the latest communication from his opponent. When asked to express an opinion on the political situation Judge Baldwin said: 'I expect the whole Democratic ticket to be elected tomorrow. I have arrived at this opinion partly from observation and partly from correspondence. Farther than this I have nothing to say.'"

WILL DEDICATE ST. GEORGE'S ON COLORADO AVE.

Bishop Brewster to Officiate at Ceremony Sunday—Church's Successful Struggle

The formal opening and dedication of St. George's Episcopal church at the corner of Colorado and Maplewood avenues will be held Sunday morning with Bishop Chauncey B. Brewster officiating. This will be the successful termination of a valiant campaign fought by the enthusiastic members of the church under the leadership of the rector, the Rev. Ellis K. Bishop.

When Mr. Bishop was called to the church from his professorship at Berkeley Divinity school, St. George's membership had been dwindling rapidly, the church was heavily in debt and many of the parishioners advised the closing of the institution and the transferring of the congregation to some other Episcopal church. Mr. Bishop changed all these conditions. He instilled enthusiasm into the members who went out and worked with such successful efforts that a plan of the burning of the mortgage will be the burning of the mortgage for $4,000. The church now has the biggest membership ever and a successful future before it.

SWEATSHOP VICTIM TRIES TO KILL HIMSELF

(Special from United Press.) New York, Nov. 8.—A victim of the sweatshops, Samuel S. Silbrone, 15, tried to kill himself today because he was "fed up" on his life.

Hollow chested, weak and anaemic, the lad roused himself from the lethargy that had seized him while sitting on a bench in Chelsea, and shot himself twice with a revolver that he borrowed about a week ago, in contemplation of suicide.

Neither wound was serious and the intervention prevented a third shot. "Let me die," he cried, while struggling with the officer, before going to Bellevue hospital. "I'm sick, and have nothing to live for."

"That's what the sweatshops do for the children of New York," the policeman commented.

Silbrone lives in Jersey City. In addition to working thirteen hours a day, in a tailor shop, the lad attended night school five nights a week, to further his ambition to become a lawyer. "It was hard enough," he told the hospital officials, "to work 13 hours a day, and then study half the night, and I could have stood this if the doctor had not told me I would not live unless I got another job where I could live in the open air. I tried, but I could not find anything. What's the use of living if you know you can never realize your ambition?"

PUBLIC OPINION

TETANUS AFTER VACCINATION. From George W. Bailey, a former Bridgeporter, Major Bowden has received the following letter: St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 3, 1910. "Papers received. Thanks. I was about to send you papers detailing the profound sensation occasioned by several more deaths of school children from tetanus, after compulsory vaccination. At last, after a brief renewal of the subject—pro and con—a monster mass meeting has been called here to protest against further vaccination in the schools. The school board has suspended the requirement—"in obedience to public sentiment"—until after the mass meeting. I can imagine you open your eyes like the old darkey, and shouting, 'De world do move!'

GEORGE W. BAILEY.
